

TO MAKE SURVEY FOR NEW BRIDGE

State Highway Engineer Will Present Estimates to County Commissioners.

CONFERRED WITH BILES

Lewis Sadler Absent. Board Made no Decision But Will Consider Proposition Thoroughly.

As the result of a conference in Harrisburg on Friday between George H.
Biles, first deputy commissioner of the State Highway Department, and the Adams county commissioners, a state engineer in the near future will make a survey of five proposed new bridges on the Emmitsburg and Harrisburg roads for the purpose of submitting estimates of the cost to the Adams county board.

Deputy Biles conferred with Reuben
H. Lupp, Walter C. Snyder, William
Linn, Adams county commissioners, George W. Baker, clerk, and J. Donald Swope Esq., attorney, in the department offices as a substitute for Highway Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler, who was unable to be present.

The county commissioners, Mr.
Swope, and Mr. Baker, who went to Harrisburg to discuss means of cooperating with the department during the coming summer, were fully satisfied with their interview and believe that the extensive 1920 campaign can be carried through satisfactorily.

As the Highway Department plans to continue building the Harrisburg roads through the coming summer and to start construction of the Emmitsburg road they desire greatly that the Adams county commissioners take steps to build new bridges over Middle and Marsh creeks on the Emmitsburg road and Conewago, Bermudian, and Latimore creeks on the Harrisburg roads.

In the conference at Harrisburg, Deputy Commissioner Biles pointed out to the Adams county representation the urgent need of building the bridges at the same time as the roads in order to save the cost of later hauling material from a distant point when the road contractors have completed their job and departed. At the same time on behalf of the department Mr.
Biles agreed to furnish plans and specifications, engineers, and the road bed through the bridges free of charge to Adams county.

Another argument that was presented forcibly to the Adams county men was that building bridges at the same time as roads saves the cost of erecting temporary structures on the detours. When a road is being constructed near a bridge, said Mr. Biles, traffic is forced to go on a detour and no temporary bridge is necessary but if erection of the span is delayed until the road is completed a temporary one must be erected to accommodate travelers.

Plans of the State Highway Department revealed that if the commissioners decide to build the bridges it is their intention to raise considerably the structure over Middle creek on the Emmitsburg road. For many years that portion of the road to Emmitsburg, Frederick, and Washington has been a constant source of trouble to travelers on account of the very steep incline at the southern end of

DECIDE TO GIVE MINSTREL SHOW

Odd Fellows And American Legion Will Combine Their Efforts.

ASK STARS TO TAKE PART

Further Details Will be Discussed on Tuesday Night. Expect Production to Make a Decided Hit.

The Gettysburg lodge of the Odd Fellows and the Albert Lentz post of the American Legion will combine their efforts to present a minstrel show in the near future.

This decision was reached at a meeting of representatives from the two organizations held in the Odd Fellows' rooms, Friday night.

Commander Percy Eichelberger, Post Adjutant Earl Stallsmith, and Maurice Miller, representing the Legion, told the Odd Fellows delegation that they would accept with pleasure their invitation to join in the presentation of a show on a fifty fifty basis.

The Odd Fellows' originally intended to put on the production themselves but at a recent meeting decided to offer a chance to the local Legion post to share in the financial benefits.

Further details of the matter will be discussed on Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock in the Odd Fellows' lodge room when a full representation of the Legion is requested to be present.

Legion members are confident that the proposed minstrel show will draw even bigger crowds than they had counted on to witness "Oh You American Legion," the Hanover production, and are discussing already an act of soldiers and sailors who would likely make a big hit. On the other hand the Odd Fellows know of the successful shows they have put on in years past and have secured the consent of former stars to take part in the coming production.

Although no official announcement has been made of the cast of characters one of the prominent show workers has stated that a versatile quartette composed of Brady Sefton, Charles Tate, Preston Tate, and Edward Woodward will act as the end men and that William Hersh, Esq., has consented to take the part of interlocutor. A vocal quartette composed of Lawrence Sheads, Carl Menchey, Edward Woodward, and Maurice Miller is expected to begin practice in the near future for the event.

As the minstrel show plan was suddenly thrust upon the local Legion post it has been impossible for Commander Eichelberger to learn how many talented players are within his ranks but he expects a number of men to volunteer their services to make the production a mammoth success.

COUPLES SUPERSTITIOUS

No Marriage Licenses Granted on Friday the Thirteenth.

On Friday the thirteenth the Adams county court house presented the same appearance as on any other day. No ferocious looking "jinx" paced up and down the hall in front of the clerk of the courts office and no hoodoo cast the "Indian sign" upon that door where so many couples enter to sign life contracts.

But despite the inviting looking appearance of the office of J. R. Hartman, clerk of the courts, and the absence of lurking "jinxes" and hoodoos not one couple in the entire county could cast superstition to the winds and venture forth on that day to affix their names to a marriage license.

LEGION VALENTINE DANCE

Albert Lentz Post Holds Pretty Affair in Glatfelter Hall.

About seventy couples swirled to the strains of the Gettysburg orchestra, Friday night, in a room of Glatfelter Hall artistically decorated by American Legion workers with red streamers, valentines, hearts, pictures of Abraham Lincoln and other ornaments appropriate of the present season.

Days of labor by the committee in charge of this dance given for the benefit of the Albert Lentz post resulted in the most successful affair that the Legion has held this year.

John E. Crim, Clyde D. Berger, Russell Stouffer, Lester Stouffer, Percy Eichelberger, Harold Mumper, Joseph
Williams, of the Legion, and Mrs.
Clyde Berger, Miss Sue Himes, Miss Elizabeth Huber, Ernest Shultz, friends of the Legion, were the persons who devoted the greatest efforts toward the success of the dance.

Outstanding reports make an exact estimate impossible but Chairman Crim believes that about $50 was cleared on the dance for the Legion treasury.

FORMER PRISONER VISITS COUNTY

Lieutenant Guy Wierman, of Arendtsville, Was Captured by Germans.

To be cut off from his own American troops and to be captured later by the Germans and taken to one of their prison camps for three months was the novel war experience of Guy Wierman, formerly a lieutenant in the 110th Regiment of the 28th or "Keystone" Division, who is visiting his home in Arendtsville at the present time.

Mr. Wierman, who is now working in Philadelphia, went to Gettysburg College in 1914 and played on the Varsity baseball nine.

After leaving College here he served on the border during the Mexican trouble, was discharged, and called into service again when war broke out with Germany. Holding the rank of corporal at that time he was promoted gradually until at the end of the World War he had reached the rank of lieutenant. He was discharged last summer with the rank of first lieutenant.

His capture by the Germans took place on September 29, 1918. With a detachment of men he had been ordered in advance of the regular line and for some unknown reason was not told to withdraw to safety during the night of September 28.

All through the night the men dug into the ground to have means of entrenchment when daylight arrived but their efforts proved fruitless when German airplanes readily discovered their position the following morning.

Throughout the day the little body of American soldiers managed to keep off the enemy but when night fell again the Germans counter attacked and succeeded in capturing fifteen men including Lieutenant Wierman.

"While in Villigen prison," said Lieutenant Wierman, "we fared well for the Germans realized that they were losing and that proper treatment of Americans would later prove to their advantage."

NO MORE FOLLOW LANSING EXAMPLE

Secretary Tumulty Refuses to Discuss Controversy Between High Officials.

DAVIS AND POLK NAMED

Ambassador to London And Under Secretary Mentioned as Successors to Lansing.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 14—There will be no more resignations from the cabinet as a result of the Lansing incident, it was said at the White House today.

"I am not going to discuss the Lansing-Wilson controversy," Secretary Tumulty said.

There was no information available at the White House as to the probable successor to Mr. Lansing but the appointment is expected to be made soon.

John W. Davis, ambassador to London, and under secretary Frank L.
Polk, are being mentioned for the place.

Cabinet meetings will be resumed
"very soon" and as announced a few days ago President Wilson will preside. White House officials reiterated today that he was making rapid strides toward regaining his health.

Notification of Mr. Lansing's retirement was sent to all foreign governments today by under secretary Polk. It was said at the State Department that Mr. Polk would serve as acting secretary for a period of thirty days unless a successor to Mr.
Lansing was chosen sooner.

Resignation Accepted

Washington, February 14—Rebuked by President Wilson for calling a cabinet meeting during his illness, Secretary Lansing has resigned. The President has accepted the resignation "with appreciation" and Mr.
Lansing becomes the second Secretary of State to leave the Administration over a disagreement with his chief.

Although correspondence between Mr. Lansing and the President makes the calling of the cabinet meetings the incident which leads directly to the secretary's resignation persons "on the inside" of the administration, who know what is going on say that it was only an incident and that the real reason for the break goes back over a period of several months and comes from fundamental differences of opinion in policy.

The disagreement between President Wilson and the head of the State Department even antedates the entry of the United States into the war.
The relation of these two men almost reached the breaking point early in 1917 when Mr. Lansing issued his celebrated statement saying the United States was daily being drawn nearer the war. By some it was taken to forecast the entry of the United States.

The President made every effort to overturn the statement after it had been given out at the State Department but it was impossible.

When Mr. Lansing went as a member of the American Peace Delegation to Paris more differences developed with other members of the mission.
He was not in accord with the President's idea of making the peace treaty and the covenant of the League of Nations, one and the same inseparable document. It was Mr. Lansing's idea that such a plan would delay the ratification and in this he was right.
It may be said with authority that Mr. Lansing and Mr. Wilson had other differences of more than a minor nature and this was confirmed in the reference the President makes to him in one of his letters.

Lane Responsible Also

Washington, February 14—Secretary Lane declared today that he considered himself "just as much responsible as Secretary Lansing for the calling of the cabinet meetings during the President's illness." He said Mr.
Lansing called him on the telephone and obtained his approval of the idea before calling the first meeting and presumably secured the approval of other cabinet members also.

"We all thought that the meetings were a good thing," said Mr. Lane, who retires as the secretary of the interior on the first of March. "They were often attended by Dr. Grayson and messages were transmitted to the President on the questions discussed.
The serious situation precipitated by the coal strike came up for consideration as well as matters pertaining to the first industrial conference, and other important questions." Asked whether the question of the constitutionality of the meetings had ever been raised among the cabinet members, Secretary Lane replied:

"Not at all. The question was never discussed in any way."

The incident which came nearer causing a break than any other was the sensational testimony of William C. Bullitt, one of the experts attached to the American Peace Mission, before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Bullitt, as will be recalled, reading from a diary quoted Lansing as having told him he was out of sympathy with the League of Nations covenant and as predicting that the Treaty would fail if the American people ever learned of its full import.

Mr. Lansing obviously in a very difficult position did not repudiate Bullitt's statement although it was momentarily expected in Washington that he would either repudiate them or resign his office.

President Wilson was at the time on his speaking tour in the west. To say that he was upset by Bullitt's story and his quotation of the secretary of state put it mildly. Officials in the presidential party who knew the workings of the president's mind expected him to have the secretary's resignation asked for when he returned to Washington. The same officials believe now that the breakdown which sent the President home a very sick man was the only thing which prevented it.

Secretary Lansing, however, never saw Wilson again and did all his business with the chief executive in writing. The relations between the men remained very heart strained and then Mr. Lansing's action in calling the Cabinet together brought them to the breaking point.

There was talk of what might be done to place Vice President Marshall at the head of the government and how Congress might go about doing it.

Nobody knew the full extent of the President's illness. It had not then become known that he had partially lost the use of his left arm and left leg through accumulation of blood in one of the arteries in his brain. There were even wild rumors that Mr. Wilson might not be in possession of all his faculties.

MOTORCYCLES FOR STATE POLICE

Plan System of Warnings to Prevent Thefts. Patrols
For Highways.

Motorcycle patrolmen who will be within one hour's touch with any point in the State are being planned as one of the innovations which will be adopted by the State Police force in the spring.

The plan to patrol the main highways and the byways of the State is being worked out by Deputy Superintendent Lynn G. Adams, who has already selected the locations for forty central stations from which the squad of motorcycle policemen will work. The men will ride tandem machines and will patrol the main highways and be responsible for all territory thirty five miles in any direction.
Telephone and signal systems will be used along all the main highways and the central office will be able to reach the patrolmen on the road with a signal at all times.

Officers of the State police force are now visiting the small country banks to learn the needs in robbery precautions and to make ends to co-operate with the banks and the business men in rural communities. The police officials feel that the system of highway patrol will be an effective measure in cutting down automobile thefts, bank robbers, horse thieves and the automobile law violator. One of the chief duties of the men will be to see that the automobile laws are not violated in the open country.

HEARTS TRUMP IN TODAY'S GAME

Leap Year Plainly Visible in Valentine Day Tokens This Year.

A SCARCITY OF COMICS

Effect of World War Noticed in Questionnaire Valentine. Great Majority of Messages of Undying Love.

Hearts are trumps in today's game of cards for it is an anniversary for St. Valentine.

"Diamonds" will continue to be
"high", with many an "experienced" player, while men addicted to "cave-man methods" may continue the use of "clubs", just as bachelors, realizing it is Leap Year, will dig themselves in with "spades". And the man at the Marriage License Bureau holds the "joker."

Leap Year is plainly visible in this year's valentines. Dan Cupid has enlisted the aid of the patron saint of lovers in this annual roundup of the bachelors and delinquent swains.

One noticeable feature of the day this year is the lack of comic valentines. This type disappeared early from the tables of the merchants.
The only plausible reason for this lack is the scarcity of newspaper paper.
The comic valentines were always printed on thin paper and the cost of this has gone out of sight and is hard to get. This year they were selling for a cent a piece while at other times they were worth two or three for a cent.

The World War still exerts an influence on valentines, as is seen in the appearance of valentines in the form of questionnaires for both men and women.

The men are asked to answer such questions as "How old do you feel and look?" "What are your views on long engagements?" and "Are you the owner of a swell car, and can you drive with one hand?" while for the women are blanks inquiring, "Can you cook?" and "Can you make your own hats?" These are to be filled out and returned to the sender, whose name is signed at the bottom of the questionnaire.

Of course, there are any number and infinite variety of "love poems", some of them real poetry, informing recipients of the message of the undying love of the sender. And not a member of the family has been neglected, for there are valentines this year for mother, father, brother and sister, even down to the baby.

SCOUT PATROLS WIN CONTEST

Local Troop Celebrates Anniversary Week With Pleasing Entertainment.

WAS DO GOOD TURN WEEK

Debate, Minstrel And Inter-Patrol.
Contests Feature Evening in Christ
Lutheran Church.

Celebrating the tenth anniversary of the organization of the American Boy Scouts and as a part of the "Do a Good Turn Week", the Gettysburg Troop of Scouts presented a varied program in the lecture room of the Christ Lutheran Church Friday evening. The entertainment which consisted of patrol contests, a minstrel show, one minute speeches, a debate and refreshments, was arranged and presented by the members of the troop.

On Sunday morning the troop will attend the services in the Trinity Reformed church in a body. Rev. P. R.
Pontius will preach a special sermon for the scouts.

The troop's three patrols, the Eagle, the Wolf and the Beaver divided the contest honors evenly, each patrol scoring the most points in one competition. The first contest which was on tenderfoot subjects was awarded to the Eagle patrol, Sigert Hagen, leader. His scouts received the highest marks on their answers to questions about knot tying, the scout oath, the pin, laws and the American Flag. The signal contest was won by the Wolf patrol, John Ogden, leader, and the Beavers, William Zeiders, leader, carried off the honors in the bandaging competition.

Following the contests a ten minute impromptu minstrel was presented by seven scouts. Joseph Lestz, Glen Stauffer, Elmer Slaybaugh, David Mc-Collough, Sylvester McKendrick and Jeremiah Zeigler were the dark-faced end men while Benjamin Alleman acted as interlocutor.

In the debate on the question
"Should the Gettysburg troop join another troop for a camping party next summer," the negative won the verdict of the judges.

Anecdotes in the lives of Daniel Boone, Abraham Lincoln and George Washington formed the subjects for the one minute talks given by the scouts in the formal meeting which brought to a close the evening's entertainment. Each of the anecdotes emphasized a Boy Scout principle. A number of the members related their experiences while doing "good turns" during the week.

The Gettysburg Troop now has twenty four members and in March a full membership will be taken in and another patrol added, making a membership of thirty two. If applications continue to come in for membership it is possible that another troop of scouts will be formed during the summer, Scout Master, Dr. Albert Billheimer announced.

New York, February 14—The brisk rally which accompanied yesterday's later dealings in the stock market was carried to greater length during today's short but active session. Deal-

many recent severe losses were

LANSING FORCED OUT BY WILSON

President Sharply Accuses Secretary of Usurping Power in Calling Meetings.

HE HAD DIFFERENT VIEWS

Cabinet Dispute Not Real Cause For Resignation. Lansing Had Long Contemplated Stepping Out.

Washington, February 14—Secretary of State Lansing has resigned under the most astonishing circumstances in the annals of American government.

Accused by President Wilson in a letter, filled with rancor and hostility, of usurping presidential authority in calling out cabinet meetings during the critical illness of the President, the Secretary of State promptly resigned. It is apparent from the brusque and stinging letter sent in reply to Mr. Wilson that the real causes were Secretary of State Lansing's opposite views on the treaty, Mexican affairs and international affairs generally.

Washington is astounded at the temper displayed by President Wilson in censuring Mr. Lansing for calling together the cabinet during the period the President lay helpless. This action was taken after consultation with other members of the cabinet and was absolutely necessary that there should be some co-ordination in governmental affairs to keep the government from falling into complete chaos.

The Second Break
Although the correspondence revealing the inseparable differences between the Chief Executive and the head of his cabinet was given out at 7:30 o'clock, Washington soon learned of the break, the second in the office of Secretary of State.

Newspaper offices were besieged for information by public officials, who, while declining to comment upon the tone of the letters, did not hesitate to charge the President with extreme brutality and some commentators went so far as to say that it showed that the President was far from well and was laboring under an extreme nervous and mental stress.

Announcement was made at the White House that cabinet meetings would be held during the President's illness, and at the time, as Secretary Lansing said in his letter to the President, other members of the cabinet approved the plan. It would seem to those familiar with the facts that the President had full knowledge of these meetings and did not oppose his cabinet consulting while he himself was so desperately ill.

Diffused On Foreign Affairs
Secretary Lansing, as is known to every member of the cabinet, during these cabinet meetings never attempted to direct affairs and, in the opinion of his colleagues, was doing just what was necessary in the trying circumstances. But it is known that for more than a year Mr. Lansing has not accepted without discussion the dictum of President Wilson on foreign affairs. This independence was expected as far as the President's personality would permit it in Paris and late this year in Mexican affairs. But in asserting himself, Mr. Lansing, in the opinion of predecessors in the office of secretary of state, did not go beyond precedence or the prerogatives of his office.

In temper and unfriendliness the letters of President Wilson in the correspondence made public last night follow the same unrestrained character as those the President wrote William Jennings Bryan and Lindley M. Garrison when these officials disagreed with him about matters of policy.

Long Contemplated Resigning
While President Wilson in his letter accepting Secretary Lansing's resignation shows clearly that the cabinet meeting dispute was not the real cause for wishing Mr. Lansing to leave the State Department, there appear to be many reasons why Mr. Lansing should desire to separate himself from the administration. The letter makes it plain that he had contemplated taking this step as early as January, 1919, on the eve of the Versailles Peace Conference.

The outstanding difference undoubtedly is that which grew out of the Paris Conference, where the President subordinated Mr. Lansing and followed what little advice he accepted in these negotiations from Colonel House, who has also broken with him, leaving the President today absolutely alone without foreign advisers and with only four members of his original cabinet serving.

That Secretary Lansing totally disagreed with the President as to the League of Nations is well known.

Safe-guard the Family.

This will make it impossible to remove the cork without being reminded that there is something unusual about its contents. It is a safety device that cannot be improved upon.

SENDING AID TO STEAMER WEBB

Vessel Afire Off Tuckers Beach. Engine Has Broken Down.

New York, February 14—A wireless message from the United States Shipping Board steamer William Henry Webb received here last night stated that the steamer was on fire and in need of immediate assistance. The William Henry Webb reported early Friday that she was in trouble off Tuckers Beach, N. J., with a broken engine and boiler trouble.

The Panama Railroad steamship Panaman reported by wireless last night that she expected to reach the distressed vessel's position within two hours.

The wireless message from the Webb received here said:

"On fire and anchored off Tuckers Beach light vessel."

A wireless message from the burning ship, intercepted at the New York Navy Yard, said that if the flames were not under control by midnight the ship would be abandoned. The City of Montgomery, a coastwise steamship, reported she was rushing to the assistance of the Webb and expected to reach her at midnight.

The William Henry Webb, a freighter with a deadweight tonnage of 9,000 left Philadelphia Thursday for New York. This was her initial voyage and she was coming here to take on a cargo for China. Captain Bellock was in charge with a crew of 40 men.

TO MAKE SURVEY FOR NEW BRIDGES

the bridge. The Highway Department announced on Friday that it intended to both raise the new bridge if it were built and cut down the top of the hill in order to provide a gradual instead of an abrupt incline.

For benefit of travelers into Gettysburg the Adams county commissioners asked the Highway Department to see that York street would be built at the same time as the new span over Rock creek so as to eliminate the erection of a temporary span over that stream. While that construction is in process the commissioners intend to provide a reasonable detour that will work no hardship on travelers.

The county commissioners listened to every proposal of the State Department with attention but made no statement as to whether or not they would construct the five proposed new bridges. They seem to realize that a "chain is as strong as its weakest link" and that the present structures will be unable to stand the heavy Harrisburg and Emmitsburg road traffic when the new concrete beds are laid. Bridge break-downs on the Baltimore, Fairfield, and Taneytown roads have proven that.

On the other hand the commissioners stated that the project involved much money and that they would have to give it thorough consideration before coming to a final decision.

STRIKE ORDER STANDS

Nothing in Wilson Proposal to Warrant Its Withdrawal.

(By Associated Press)
Detroit, February 14—President Wilson's proposal yesterday to the railroad union contained nothing that would warrant the withdrawal of the strike order to members of the United Brotherhood of maintenance of way employees and shop laborers, Allen Barker, head of that organization said this morning.

UNION LEADERS GET A SETBACK

Some Say Their Conference With Wilson Was Disappointing.

STRIKE SEEMS UNCERTAIN

Negotiations Called off Until Federal Control Ends. Leaders Will Bide Their Time Just Now.

Washington, February 14—Negotiations of the union railroad employees for an increase in pay practically were suspended last night until the rail properties again are in the hands of their owners. There remained as a finale only the presentation to President Wilson the union's reply to his statement given them earlier in the day, and this likely will be sent to the White House today.

Union officials conferred for six hours on the President's statement, but they steadfastly refused to divulge its contents, on which White House officials likewise maintained absolute silence. Nor would the union chiefs give any information as to their reply. Director General Hines conferred briefly late Friday with W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and a committee from his organization. This conference, so far as the railroad administration is concerned, was said to conclude the series of meetings on the wage question.

No Decision Reached

Mr. Hines also late Friday sent a letter to the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees restating his attitude toward that group's strike. He did not make public the nature of his communication, but it was hinted he had informed the maintenance workers they could expect nothing further in the way of wage increases from the railroad administration. Members of the committee, which has been representing the maintenance employees, however, denied this, but declared there had been no decision to call off the strike, which has been set for Tuesday.

After Mr. Hines had given the administration's final word to Mr. Lee's organization, the trainmen's president announced he regarded the White House decision "as binding on our union as well as the others." Although Mr. Lee declined to discuss the next move he would make, it was understood he would not break from the other organizations. It was indicated also that the wage agreement, notice of abrogation of which was given for February 23, might be allowed to remain in effect until the termination of federal control. Members of his committee seemed to accept this as their chief's stand.

Union Men Disappointed

The greatest attitude of the union officials, after being made acquainted with the President's statement in a conference on the south lawn of the White House, was plainly one of disappointment. Some of them were openly dissatisfied, but the more conservative leaders urged that they bide their time in the hope of success along the other lines.

Whether this attitude was proof that the President had flatly denied the requests for increases, or was an indication he had submitted an unsatisfactory counter proposal, was the subject of differences of opinion among union leaders, who were made acquainted with the President's reply. Many of them believed, it was stated, that a compromise would be offered by the President, but there was a growing belief that the White House decision had been strictly submitted by Mr. Hines.

FACES EXECUTION AT 17

No Move Yet to Save Colored Boy From Sing Sing Death Chair.

New York, Feb. 14—Although the date of his execution is but two weeks off, nobody has tried to get Governor Smith to spare the life of Theodore Dixon, 17, known in Sing Sing as the "death house kid."

His mother, who is his only relative, is in jail awaiting trial charged with the same murder of which he was convicted. He has had no visitors, and Rev. Dr. A. N. Petersen, the Protestant chaplain, is the only person who has comforted him since he was placed in the condemned cells eight months ago.

Since the electric chair was invented 31 years ago no prisoner under 18 has been electrocuted. Prison attendants believe Dixon's sentence will be commuted if someone asks clemency for him. Dixon, who is colored, killed Margaret Morton, a negro girl.

Sacrifice

Love means sacrifice and stoic endurance. And the man who thinks he loves and has not the spirit of sacrifice only is adulterating to his self-gratification. All of the big emotions have coupled with their expression an underlying element of capacity for repression. It is the ability to give or withhold that makes their true value, and since love is the greatest of all these, then the greater should be the power of sacrifice.—Alden.

SUFFRAGE WOMEN WANT ACTION

Make Determined Effort to Get Necessary States to Ratify Amendment.

Chicago, Feb. 14—Governors of the various states that have not ratified the Federal Suffrage Amendment will receive telegrams demanding immediate consideration and prompt action by the legislatures, as a result of action decided upon Friday at the opening of the Fifty-first Annual Convention of the National American Women's Suffrage Association.

Delegates to the convention numbering more than 2,000 wish ratification to be completed so that all women of the country can participate in the Presidential election.

Demand on the various state executives for a changed attitude toward women voters, followed the receipt of a telegram from Gov. Robertson, of Oklahoma, in which he announced a special session of the Oklahoma legislature would be called for Feb. 23 to consider ratification of the amendment.

Particular attention was directed against Gov. Hall, of Washington, the only equal suffrage state where no move has been made to call a special session.

Officers of the association believe it will be only a few days before the necessary 36 states ratify the measure, as legislatures of 31 states have acted in favor of the suffrage amendment.

In addition to Oklahoma, the New Mexico legislature will pass on the question on Feb. 23. West Virginia and Delaware are expected to take favorable action shortly. In the event that Washington does not make the 36th state, suffrage leaders are certain that Vermont or Connecticut will take that honor.

UNION REPLY PRESENTED

President Receives Answer From Railroad Representatives.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 14—The reply of the railroad brotherhoods to President Wilson's decision in the wage controversy was presented to the President today. Immediately afterward the Union officials sent telegrams to their locals over the country which B. M. Jewell, president of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor said would serve to "steady our men" until they receive the full correspondence covering the negotiations.

Mr. Jewell would not say just what had been the result of the negotiations, but it seemed certain that the President had refused to meet the demands of the 2,000,000 workers for a general wage increase and that his decision had been accepted by the union officials, at least for the present.

DON'T CUT TAX RETURN

No skimping in your income tax returns says a warning issued by Internal Revenue Collector Lederer. Guesswork, estimates and other hit or miss tactics are barred. Accuracy and completeness are insisted upon. Salaries, persons and wage earners must not confuse their returns to figures showing a year's pay at so much a day or so much a week. The actual amount should be ascertained and reported, he continued.

Overtime, bonuses, shares in the profits of the business, value of quarters and board furnished by the employer and other items which are compensation for services are taxable as part of the year's earnings. Even pensions paid by an employer or the government is a taxable income. Tips received by waiters, porters and others are also taxable.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear husband and father, Aaron H. Cutshall, who departed this life, one year ago today, February 14th, 1919.

Home is not home since dear father's not here,

Our home is so lonely, so dark, so drear;

Never more will we hear his footsteps fall,

He's gone to that home prepared for us all.

A father dear, a father kind,
Has gone and left us here behind;
No use to weep for tears are vain,
And father dear is out of pain.

You are not forgotten, dear father, Nor will you ever be;
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.

Oh! husband dear, how can it be,
No more they look of love I'll see;
But now we'll strive and daily pray,
To meet thee in eternal day.

By the family.

THE PASSING OF THE OLD-TIME PUMP

By P. C. McNulty, Jr.

(National Crop Improvement Service.)
ONE of the reasons why boys leave the farm is because of the hardships they must undergo on the old-fashioned farm where everything freezes up tight in the winter time.
Stock must have a plentiful supply of water which is not too cold and which is always fresh. Priming the pump and chopping open the drinking troughs to allow cattle and hogs to put their noses into the icy water is hard on the boys and harder on the stock.
Milk is made largely of water which should be at a moderate temperature always available. Dairy cows produce at least five more pounds of milk daily when given an unlimited amount of fresh running water. When water is stale and warm or when it is icy cold, they will not drink their fill but will take only a sip or two when very thirsty.
The National fresh water system is solving the problem for the modern farmer and for the suburbanite. It has only two parts, the fresh water cylinders with their controlling valves and the air compressing equipment which is run by either electricity or gasoline. The equipment may be located in any convenient place regardless of the distance to the well or spring, barn or basement. The tank contains air only so there is no danger of it freezing in case the family is away. It may be placed where the air compressor can be operated from the ordinary farm engine which is doing their other work. Where electricity is available either on trunk lines or private systems, the outfit becomes automatic so that when the air tank is pumped up to the desired pressure, it shuts off the current. This type of installation bids fair to replace all suburban water systems. It requires no attention in any kind of weather, other than an occasional oiling.
Hard and soft water, either from well, spring or lake and stream, may all be supplied from one air compressing equipment and the water comes gushing forth in plenty at the turning of the faucet. Of course the pipes must be buried in the ground and the outlets protected from freezing but there is no more risk of freezing than there would be with a city water system.
The flow is continuous because the pumping chambers are arranged so that one part is filling while the other delivers the water, maintaining a steady flow from the faucet at all times.
There are many devices whereby animals may turn on the water for themselves.

MEETINGS GO ON WITHOUT STOUGH

Gypsy Smith Takes Place of Evangelist Asked to Leave.

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 14—Not dismayed by the sudden departure of Dr. Henry Stough after he had been threatened by the local service men for an alleged uncalled-for reflection on them in referring to the riff-raff and scum of the Army, the managers of the evangelistic campaign plan to proceed with their program.

Gypsy Smith, another evangelist, who hails from New York, spoke to a crowded house, and he was here again last night.

While there is satisfaction expressed among citizens generally that Doctor Stough left when he did, the supporters of the evangelist, who number hundreds, are grieved at the treatment accorded him, and contend it was uncalled for.

In the service prayers were offered for the welfare of Doctor Stough wherever he may be. It is reported here that he went to New York. As to the city itself, the exciting incidents of the last few days have been forgotten. The service men are fully satisfied, and under orders of the legion officers, they have dropped the subject entirely.

From the headquarters of the campaign, it is announced that a religious revival is now more needed than ever in Lancaster, and they are laying plans for a more extended work.

COUNTIES WILL GO OVER

Is Opinion of Jewish Relief Committee in Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, Penna., Feb. 14—Each of the ten counties of the 19-county Central Pennsylvania district which has conducted drives in the Jewish War Relief campaign this week, will oversubscribe its quota.

This was the opinion expressed today by campaign officials in the Central Pennsylvania district office in Harrisburg, and is based on returns already received in the district offices. Drives in the other nine counties of the district will be conducted during the week of February 23.

That a twenty-five-cent contribution will buy a ten-year-old boy more food than he has had to eat at one time for the past five years, was emphasized today in a last-minute statement issued by campaign officials.

"Each Central Pennsylvanian who shares $20 of his fortune," one official said, "will give funds sufficient to feed one little girl for a month, even in Poland, where food costs more than twice as much as it does here in Central Pennsylvania even in these days of the high cost of living."

FAVORS ESSAY CONTEST

Governor Urges Students to Take Part in Recruiting Drive.

Hon. William C. Sproul, Governor, has issued the following statement urging the heartiest co-operation of the people of Pennsylvania with the War Department for the success of the National Essay Contest to be held in the schools on February 20th:

My attention has been attracted to the United States Army Essay Contest to be held for the school children in all schools Feb. 19 on the subject, "What are the benefits of an enlistment in the United States Army?" and I desire to urge upon the schools and the citizenship of Pennsylvania the heartiest co-operation in order that this contest may be a success. A national contest upon the part of the school children on a subject of such vital importance will be of untold value to the nation, not only from an educational standpoint, but also from that of recruiting the Army and of the Americanization of our citizenship.

FROST WANTS MORE WIVES

Said He Would Have $100,000 Worth If Possible.

New York, Feb. 14—Charges of domestic tyranny and marital unfaithfulness were made against Elihu B. Frost, millionaire head of the Submarine Boat Corporation, in a counter suit for divorce filed by his wife, Mrs. Rosalind Harrington Frost.

Frost is sixty years old; his wife is thirty.

Mrs. Frost charged she was "shadowed relentlessly" by her husband's detectives whenever she left their home near Atlantic City. She further charged he was an avowed proponent of legalized bigamy. She added he said, he was in favor of laws permitting a man to have as many wives as he could support, and he was able to take care of $100,000 worth.

Prohibitionist Will Campaign For The Proper Legislators.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 14—The election of a State Legislature that will enact effective prohibition enforcement legislation was one of the chief planks of the Pennsylvania prohibition convention platform, formulated at sessions of the organization here.

The platform demanded that officials and the courts enforce existing prohibition laws until further legislation on the subject shall have been secured, and the State was called upon to guard the moral welfare of her citizens, which was declared to be a more important concern of the Commonwealth than property rights.

NEW DRESS REGULATIONS

Skirts Shall Come to Inch Below the Knee.

Paris, Feb. 14—Dame Fashion having apparently reached the limit of undress in evening gowns, has now decreed that skirts for day wear shall come no longer than one inch below the knee next season. Fourteen inches is the regulation length.

Money is no object, especially in underclothing, the prices of which rise in direct ratio to the flimsiness of the garments. Fifty dollars a pair for stockings is not considered expensive, provided they are of the "invisible" variety.

TEAM ON DECLINE

Injuries Have Proven Great Handicap to College Basketball Team.

Unless severe injuries to two regular players heal almost instantly or some substitute unexpectedly springs to the fore and plays phenomenal ball it appears as if the season of the Gettysburg College basketball team is ruined.

For the first time in his five years as basketball coach at Gettysburg, Doyle Leathers has been seriously handicapped by injuries to his men. Charles Miller, center, broke his ankle in the Mt. St. Mary's game and then ten days later Henry Bream, forward, broke his arm in a practice contest. With only one of the pair out Leathers would have had some chance of retaining an effective combination but the injury to Bream was a great blow. Mundorf, the only remaining man of the scoring trio, continues to play well but greatly misses Miller and Bream as all three are native Gettysburg boys and played together at High School before entering College.

Terkes, erstwhile of Kane High School, is making a sensational record in foul shooting on the local floor as he averaged ninety per cent in the last two home contests.

The greatest hope of Coach Leathers is that Miller can get in shape for the Dickinson, Mt. St. Mary's, and Bucknell contests so that he can be inserted at center and Terkes switched to forward.

BORDER SERVICE MEDALS

State Has 4,000 Badges For National Guard Troops.

The State of Pennsylvania has over 4,000 medals for Mexican border service with the National Guard which it is trying to give to men who were on duty at El Paso and its vicinity in 1916 and the early part of 1917. These medals were authorized by the Legislature and before they could be distributed many of the men who had been on the border were in France. Some of the letters sent to Guardsmen came back to this country because the men could not be located overseas and others had to be returned because they were killed in action in France or had been sent to hospitals. Since the demobilization of the Army, the Adjutant General's office has been making efforts to locate the men entitled to the medals and families of soldiers have been asked to help. A number of men have been found in the Army, while others have gone to larger cities from their home communities where they enlisted with the Guard. In some instances men who served on the border have been discovered living in Harrisburg or close to the Capitol and did not know they were entitled to the decoration.

CHANDLER SIX
Famous For Its Marvelous MotorIf You Don't Want to Wait
Next Spring, Order Now

LAST year's production of the Chandler Six was of record volume and this year's production will double it; but if you don't want to wait for your new Chandler next spring, we would suggest that you order it now.

This year's automobile shows have attracted crowds greater than ever before, partly perhaps because hundreds of thousands of Americans were unable to secure new cars last year. And these great crowds of motor enthusiasts have found no better value in the whole exhibit of six cylinder cars than that which Chandler offers.

Chandler leads so distinctly in the medium-priced fine car field because it does offer such splendid value; because of its really marvelous motor developed through seven years of production in the Chandler plant and seven years' service on the road in the hands of a host of owners; because of its sturdy, dependable mechanical construction throughout the entire chassis; and because of its attractive and comfortable body.

Compare them all, all the sizes, then pick out yours.
It will be a Chandler if you ask Chandler owners.

What is the Final Answer
To This Truck Question?ISN'T IT UPKEEP—cost of operation, repairs and replacements—tires included—from year to year?WELL THEN, if that is the case, what justification is there for a truck of no greater capacity and costing several hundred dollars more in the first instance, unless that truck can, after years of use, prove that its upkeep is sufficiently less to offset the difference in first cost?THAT IS THE THEORY on which most buyers act when they pay $1600 to $2000 for a truck rated at 1500 pounds normal load.HAVE YOU EVER investigated this matter to see if such trucks prove up on that basis? Well you ought.THERE ARE SOME SURPRISES in store for those who do.FOR OBVIOUS REASONS we cannot publish figures—because business ethics forbid us to publish names of competitors.BUT ANY REO DEALER can show you comparative data, kept by big concerns, of this 1500-pound Reo doing the same work, side by side with others of well-known makes costing 50% to 100% more—and in every case the Reos show lower upkeep cost!SO, WHILE THE REO IS PAYING back, in efficiency and economy, its total first cost, the other isn't even making good on its promise to pay back the difference.This Truck may be had Chassis only or with Cab, Windshield and Sills or any combination desired. Immediate delivery on a few.

KEEP TO THE RIGHT A STATE LAW

Harrisburg, February 14—Under the act of June 30, 1919, the words "Keep To The Right" are made part of the State laws governing the operation of all vehicles and this is particularly true in the case of vehicles which meet at the intersection of public highways. The diagram illustrates the State's law governing traffic rights-of-way.

Many motorists have the erroneous idea that there are thoroughfares in Pennsylvania, which, because of their prominence, are "right-of-way roads." This is not the case. At all times the vehicle approaching from the right has the right-of-way. On the diagram the roadster, No. 1, has the right-of-way over the touring car No. 2, No. 2 has the right-of-way over No. 3. No.

3, has the right-of-way over No. 4. No. 4, has the right-of-way over No. 1. Proper observance of the law by drivers of all vehicles is expected to decrease accidents.

No city, borough, or incorporated town, township, or county, shall adopt, maintain, or enforce any rule, regulation, or ordinance, regulating the speed, equipment, use or operation of motor vehicles, other than city or borough ordinances regulating the stopping and parking of vehicles, the use of certain streets as one way streets or regulating the kind and weight of traffic on certain streets and public parks, and establishing safety zones; no such special regulations effective unless notice of same is conspicuously posted.

TRAIN 3 WEEKS ON TRIP

St. Johns, N. F., Feb. 14—An express train on the Reid-Newfoundland Railway, a narrow-gauge line, has arrived here after being three weeks on the way across the island from Port-au-Basques. The train was scheduled to make the 546 mile run in 29 hours. Several storms were encountered and it was snowed in frequently.

Passengers reported that at some exposed points the snow drifted to a height of 20 feet. They were on scanty rations much of the time, with fish as the principal diet.

The perils of cross-country travel have increased so much that it was said Friday service probably would be suspended until the storm passed, passengers being sent by steamer along the southern coast from Port-au-Basques to St. Johns.

Has a Mother the Right to Decide How Many Children She Shall Have?

The war has made us realize that we cannot afford to ignore anything that claims to improve the health of our children and this is why Pictorial Review, in line with its progressive editorial policy, presents to the thinking women of America the opportunity for considering the much misunderstood subject of birth-control.

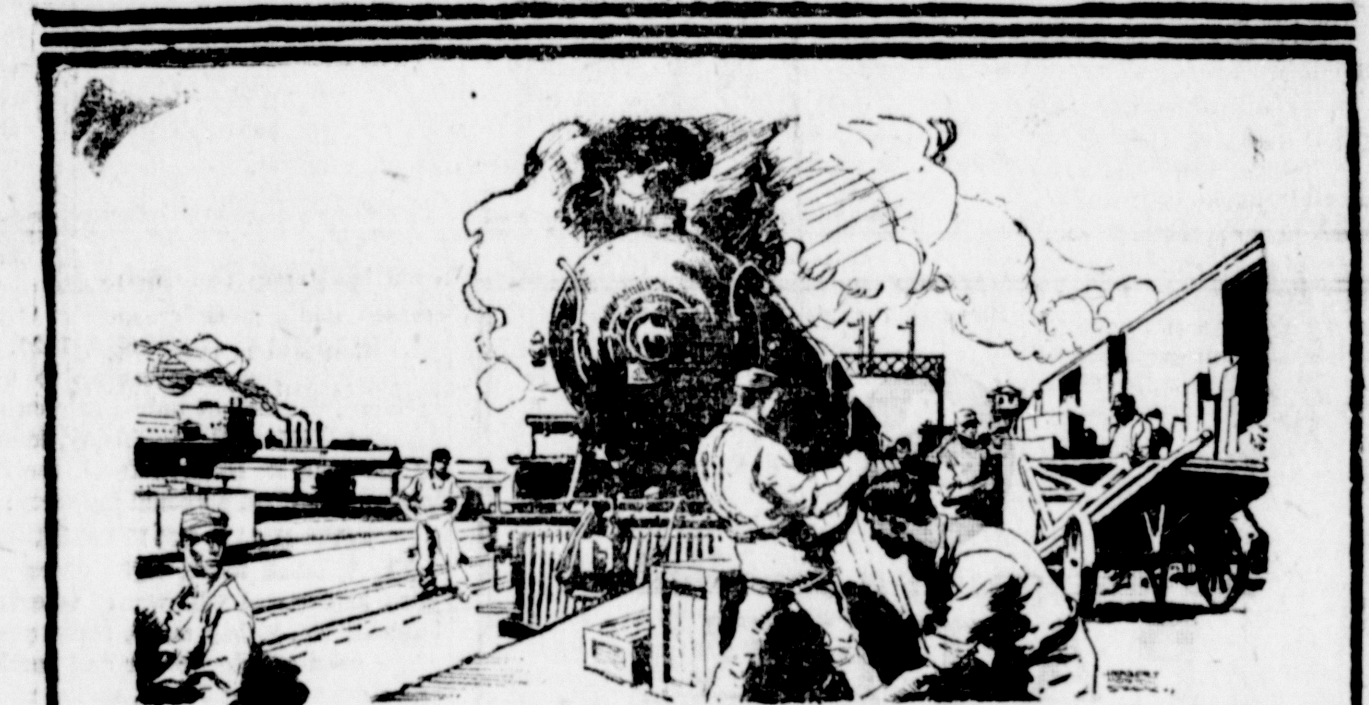

The remarkable story of what the women of Holland have done under the leadership of Dr. Aletta Jacobs is graphically told by Eleanor Kinsella McDonnell in Pictorial Review. Read this amazing article in

They couldn't be built
now for twice $71,000

When the talk turns from politics to railroads, and the traveler with the cocksure air breaks in with, "There's an awful lot of 'water' in the railroads," here are some hard-pan facts to give him:

American railroads have cost $80,900 a mile—road-bed, structures, stations, yards, terminals, freight and passenger trains—everything from the great city terminals to the last spike.

A good concrete-and-asphalt highway costs $36,000 a mile—just a bare road, not counting the cost of culverts, bridges, etc.

Our railroads couldn't be duplicated today for $150,000 a mile.

They are capitalized for only $71,000 a mile—much less than their actual value. Seventy-one thousand dollars today will buy one locomotive.

English railways are capitalized at $274,000 a mile; the French at $155,000; German $132,000; even in Canada (still in pioneer development) they are capitalized at $67,000 a mile. The average for all foreign countries is $100,000.

Low capitalization and high operating efficiency have enabled American railroads to pay the highest wages while charging the lowest rates.

WARN AGAINST SCARES

Health Department Says Crest of Flu Outbreak Reached.

State Health officials have warned against scares caused by telephone reports coming to Harrisburg from various parts of the State and expressed the opinion that a few days would see the crest of the influenza outbreak in Pennsylvania. The report for the day showed 1,038 cases of influenza, a pronounced drop in twenty four hours, and 134 of pneumonia. The Philadelphia report showed 263 cases of influenza and Pittsburgh 353, the pneumonia cases in each city being less than fifty. One report coming here from Asaph and Ansonia, in the northern tier, told of serious conditions, none of which could be verified. No requests for physicians have come to the Department of Health. Many reports of schools handicapped by illness of teachers have come to the State Department of Instruction.

FAIRFIELD HAS EPIDEMIC

Fastnacht Social Has Been Postponed by Ladies' Society.

Fairfield is in the grip of a serious epidemic of influenza according to a report which says a great many of the residents are afflicted with the disease or sickness resembling it. On this account the Ladies' Aid Society of the St. John's Reformed church, of Fairfield, has called off indefinitely the Mame and Fastnacht social which was scheduled for Tuesday, February 17. The town medical society advised the action after investigating the situation. Notice of the date for the social will be given later.

"Just Pals" Father and Son

The man who has a boy growing up is usually particular about his own clothes. He wants to set a good example.

But he is even more particular about his boy. He is justly proud of him, and he wants to be proud of his clothes.

This store is the chart of FATHER and SON. It caters to every individual need—shows merchandise cheerfully and does not consider it's responsibility over when the sale is made.

Are You Short of Manure?

With ordinary commercial fertilizers costing more than double the usual price, make your manure go as far as possible by reinforcing it with

guaranteed:

Total Phosphoric Acid, GRADE A 28 per cent, GRADE B, 16 per cent.

Total Barium Sulphide, GRADE A, 7 per cent, GRADE B, 7 per cent.

It is a fact that a few loads of manure to the acre, used in combination with a liberal application of "B-P" will produce better crops than twice that amount of manure used alone.

MANURE IS NO MORE A COMPLETE RATION FOR CROPS THAN HAY IS FOR A COW.

The addition of Barium-Phosphate to manure will pay as well as feeding grain with hay.

Our pamphlet, "How To Increase The Value of Manure with PHOSPHORUS" will give you some worth while information. Let me send it to you, and quote prices.
